Recently described by the German Press as "one of the leading baroque interpreters of our times", KOBIE VAN RENSBURG has already established himself at the forefront of a new generation of singers specialising in music of the 17th and 18th century.

Starting his vocal training with Prof. Werner Nel while studying for Graduate and Postgraduate degrees in Law and International Politics at the Northwest University, he made his professional debut at the early age of twenty, singing Belmonte in Mozart's Entführung aus dem Serail for the Roodepoort City Opera in 1991. Subsequent engagements as Fenton (Falstaff) in Durban, Don Ottavio (Don Giovanni) and Ferrando (Così fan tutte) in Cape Town soon followed. After winning several competitions and prizes as well as the Concert-section of the 1994 UNISA International Singing competition, he left for Munich to further his vocal studies under Prof. Hanno Blaschke. He was immediately engaged as a soloist in the Studio program of the Bavarian State Opera and shortly after accepted a contract at Munich's Staatstheater am Gärtherplatz, where he still is a full-time member of the ensemble.

During the last decade he has established himself as regular guest in several leading European opera houses including the Berlin State Opera, the Bavarian State Opera in Munich, The Stuttgart State Opera, the Théâtre du Champs-Elysées and the Chatelet Theatre in Paris, the Théâtre du Capitole in Toulouse, the Opéra National du Rhin in Strasbourg, Teatro São Carlos in Lissabon, as well as opera houses in Madrid, Montpellier, Basel, Luzern, Karlsruhe, Graz etc. His expanding operatic repertoire already covers a wide spectrum of more than 30 leading roles, including the Early operas of Monteverdi (L'Orfeo, L'incoronazione di Poppea etc.), the baroque operas of Händel (Acis in Acis & Galatea, Bajazete in Tamerlano, Jupiter in Semele, Giuliano in Rodrigo etc.), the famous Mozartian tenor roles (Idomeneo in Idomeneo, Tito in La clemenza di Tito, Tamino in Die Zauberflöte, Belmonte in Die Entführung aus dem Serail, Don Ottavio in Don Giovanni, Belfiore in La finta giardiniera, Ferrando in Così fan tutte etc.), Fenton in Verdi's Falstaff, Der Junge Seemann in Wagner's Tristan und Isolde and several comic operas and operettas (Chateauneuf in Lorzing's Zar & Zimmerman and Alfred in Die Fledermaus by Strauss.)

He is a frequent guest at such renowned festivals as the Salzburg Festival, the Schwetzingen Festival, the Karlsruhe Händel Festival, the Schleswig-Holstein Festival, the Halle Händel Festival, the Innsbruck Early Music Festival, the Luzern International Music Festival etc. Recitals and concert appearances have taken him all over Europe and as far afield as the USA, Cairo and Buenos Aires (Teatro Colon). He has performed with most of the leading orchestras in Europe and such famous conductors and specialist ensembles as Sir John Eliot Gardiner and the English Baroque Soloists & Monteverdi Choir, Ivor Bolton & the Freiburg Baroque Orchestra, Thomas Hengelbrock & The Balthasar Neumann Ensemble, Christopher Hogwood & The Academy of Ancient Music, René Jacobs & Concerto Vocale, the Akademie für Alte Musik Berlin and Christophe Rousset & Les Talens Lyriques.

In June 2002 he scored a tremendous success with the world premiere of his own Baroque Pasticcio Opera Ein Theater nach der Mode. Having devised a new plot, he wrote the libretto together with the stage director, Peer Boysen, and created a new opera including music by Händel and other baroque composers as a commissioned work for Munich's Staatstheater am Gärtherplatz. The premiere was a huge success and it not only received rave reviews but continued to play to sold out houses for the rest of the season. The production was so successful that it will be continued in the repertoire of the Staatstheater am Gärtherplatz for the 2004/2005 season.

Highlights among most recent engagements include the role of Quint in Britten's Turn of the Screw with Sir Jeffrey Tate in Geneva, the title role in Ferrandini's Catone in Utica for the 250th anniversary of Munich's Cuvillières Theatre, the role of Creonte in Traetta's Antigona in Paris with Christophe Rousset, two very successful productions of Mozart's Idomeneo in Nice and Munich, and the title role in a staged version of Händel's Belshazzar in Brussels with René Jacobs and the Orchestra of the Age of Enlightenment. In 2003 he was appointed as extraordinary guest professor at the North-West University.

In December 2004 Kobie van Rensburg will make his debut at the Metropolitan Opera in New York as Grimualdo in Händel's Rodelinda, before returning to the MET in 2005 and 2006 for the title role in Idomeneo under James Levine.
